

2018 NEW YEAR MESSAGE

With most heartfelt and prayerful gratitude to our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ for His love and hope towards a brighter future.

I would like to extend the same sense of appreciation and gratefulness to all of you for your enduring love and support, collaboration and trust, unity and sacrifices in the mission of providing relevant, engaging and excellent education that is "fully humanizing."

In the face of the challenges and changes brought about by the changing global and national educational landscape, we shall continue to move forward with optimism and strength.

In our academic community, we find fullness of life and strive to provide a "learner-centered education" which emphasizes continuous learning. We will remain steadfast in our commitment to the building of the Church and society, and have a clear set of objectives to address but we will continue to transform.

Through our accreditation, attain 100% national board passing rate, assist calamity victims, win sports championships, and publish research in the language of His love, I am nothing."

Finally, I would like to remind everyone that hard work and perseverance are for themselves; and that Someone is truly right. Why? Because of the translations of God's love. And truly they are. We are a Benedictine Catholic identity, a "God-centered community".

Committed to our Vision-Mission as one Bedan and Unity of values.
